SOLDIERS' NARROW ESCAPE

Eddyville, Ky., March 5. (Special.)—A delay in the holding of a primary to nominate county officers in Lyon county caused by a failure of the Democratic committee to post notices of the election 40 days before the polls were to be opened as required by law, seems to have been providential, as the law and order adherents of the county believe that by the time the election can now be held, reason will assert itself and they will be able to elect a county judge and attorney in this county.

Accordingly, W. E. Crumbaugh who has been county judge for 20 years, and who with Walter Krone, the county attorney, stood for law and order when that cause was openly championed by less than 50 men in the county, so great was the intimidation, has announced that he will make the race for county attorney, while Mark Molloy, a strong law and order man, will be put up for county judge.

County Attorney Krone will yield to the demands of the law and order supporters in the Third judicial district and make the race for commonwealth's attorney.

The Lyon county primary was originally called for March 13, will be held April 3.

Soldiers Have Narrow Escape.

While returning from Kuttawa yesterday afternoon, Capt. Terry and two privates of the Cynthiana company of state militia on duty here, had narrow escapes from drowning when the team they were driving became frightened at a yacht cruising in the Cumberland river and ran off a high embankment into the river. Both animals were drowned but the soldiers escaped by jumping from the conveyance. The fall of the horses into the water almost upset the yacht in which a number of ladies were seated, and they were drenched by the splash.

Blind Tigers Raided.

"Soft drink" establishments run by Lynn Gresham and Luther Duke were raided yesterday by Sheriff Kash accompanied by three deputies and a number of citizens. Three barrels of whisky, a quantity of "near beer" that was so near the real article that it could not be distinguished from the genuine, was confiscated and the proprietors were arrested. A compromise was effected by the proprietors paying a fine of $100 each and executing bond for $500 that they will not violate the law for 12 months.

Meadows Convicted.

Buffalo, March 5.—Broker Harold Meadows, charged with misappropriation of $72,000 given him by W. E. Silverthorn to purchase stocks, was found guilty of larceny in the first degree today.

Detroit Starting Point

Detroit, March 5.—The Glidden tour will be started from Detroit in July. Official announcement is withheld but it became known today that Detroit had fulfilled all conditions imposed before the city could be declared the starting place for the famous contest.

Continues to Improve

Elmer Albritton, of Mayfield, is resting well at Riverside hospital and his physicians are encouraged over the change in his condition. Should there not be any setback his recovery is assured. Albritton was injured last Friday night by a box car in the Illinois Central railroad yards.

County School Board

The county school board will meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the county court house to select a location for the proposed county high school. Should the weather be pleasant a large attendance of spectators is expected, because the interest in the high school has waxed warm in the rivalry between different locations in the county for the schools. One plan, which seems most favorable is for the county graduates to enter the city high school with tuition paid by the county, but Lone Oak, Arcadia and Heath are

President Taft's First Duty Was Sending Names of His Cabinet Appointees to Senate

Loeb's Name Also Sent in as Collector of Port at New York—Asks Speedy Confirmation.

Washington, March 5.—3 p. m.—The appointment of the members of the cabinet was confirmed by the senate.

Washington, March 5.—President Taft took possession of the executive offices today. His first duty was sending to the senate, which met in special session in pursuance to a call issued by Roosevelt Monday, the list of cabinet officers which he wished confirmed as speedily as possible. Loeb's name was also sent in as collector of port at New York.

Senator Knox was one of the first callers at the white house. He had a long conference with Taft shortly after the Republican members of the ways and means committee, headed by Chairman Payne, appeared. He declared that he would have a tariff bill ready by March 15 when the special session has been called. Taft declared to them that he wanted the revision bill really revised.

Weather Clear Today.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—The weather is clear today, the snow melting in the streets, but the railroads will be unable to get trains on schedule again for hours. Thousands of people are here unable to get home. It is feared that the death list will be large as the result of exposure. Three deaths so far reported and three are dying. Hotels were unable to feed all who applied.

Resigns Rather Than Prosecute.

Washington, March 5.—Jos. B. Keating, U. S. district attorney at Indianapolis, tendered his resignation today to the attorney general rather than proceed with the prosecution of Delevan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of the Indianapolis News. He says he was out of sympathy with the government's attempt to drag the men to Washington to be tried, when there is sufficient law for punishment in the courts having jurisdiction at Indianapolis.

Keating in his letter says he believed the principle involved a dangerous one and said that he could not honestly contend to the court that such a construction be put on the law as one attorney general wished. He asks that his resignation be accepted by March 15.

It is declared here that Keating's action was intended to put squarely up to the administration the question of the prosecution for the alleged libel in the Panama matter as if Taft through the attorney general accepts

ANOTHER "TAG DAY" TO RAISE FUNDS FOR CONFEDERATE MONUMENT

Paducah will be tagged again. This time for the benefit of the Confederate monument, which will be erected in Lang park to the memory of General Tilghman. The citizens in charge of this public spirited movement have devised the "Tag Day" as the best plan to raise the last amount of money due for the monument. Saturday, March 13, has been set for the day, and the young women of the city will be out with the tags, and everyone out that day will wear a tag. Several weeks ago a tag law was had for the benefit of Riverside

Storm Has Subsided.

New York, March 5.—The backbone of yesterday's storm was broken today. Enormous damages have been caused along the Atlantic seaboard. It will be several days before the crippled communication between Washington and Baltimore will be restored. More than one thousand telegraph poles are down between Wilmington and Washington.

Canning Factory For Barlow

Barlow, Ky., March 5.—Local capitalists will break ground in a few days for the erection of a canning factory to cost $15,000. All the stock has been subscribed, local people taking the greater portion of it. When completed the plant will give employment to sixty persons and the indications are it will be a big success.

$10.85 FOR A KISS.

Frankfort, Ky., March 5.—Kisses when given on a street in this city cost $10.85 each, for that is the amount that Lula Bush and Jack Martin were fined in the city court here today for being caught kissing on the public square in this city. Martin paid the fine for himself and the woman, saying that the kiss was worth the money.

NOVEL CHUTE WILL BE USED TO COAL STEAMBOATS

The difficulty of securing cheap labor on the river will be solved by the West Kentucky Coal company if a new coal chute, that is under construction, is a success, although the engineers who designed it are confident that it will prove a beneficial device. The chute is something novel, will be the first one ever erected, and is the product of years of toil by the engineers of the company. By the use of it the coal company will be enabled to coal the largest steamboats in fifteen minutes while now with labor several hours are required and at considerable expense.

At the fleet of the company in the Tennessee river the company has a large float, and on this will be placed a steam shovel so that a large of coal may be brought alongside the float, and with the large dipper it will be scooped out. Then it will be dumped into a large bin, which will be built on a large scale, the contract for which has been let. From the bin will emerge a number of chutes and the fuel bin of the steamboats will be connected with a chute, and the coal will pass through the chute into the steamboat.

The cost of the chute will be $6,000, but it will soon pay for itself. At present negroes are employed to carry the coal in boxes from the coal barge to the steamboat, and one cent a bushel is paid for the labor. This adds an extra cent to the price of coal, besides the great difficulty of securing laborers in summer. With the new device a steamboat can be loaded at a small fraction of the present price, and this will mean the reduction of nearly one cent a bushel of coal for the steamboatmen.

The bin is built on a large scale and when the proper number of bushels have been dumped a lever can be thrown and the chute will be closed. It is expected to have the chute in

Shumaky Doomed

Lincoln, Neb., March 5.—R. Mead Shumaky was doomed to hang today. He is facing the gallows for the fifth time, each time attorneys prevented carrying out of the execution. The supreme court today refused to intervene again. Shumaky was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Martin, an aged woman who refused to give him a sum of money. He escaped and

Need of Abattoir Discussed

Paducah's need of an abattoir was the topic of discussion this afternoon before the board of health, which met this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city hall. The need of a central slaughterhouse for the butchers has been before the physicians for several years, and the board hopes to begin work in preparation for the summer. While the discussion was formal it is hoped that some plan will be adopted towards the erection of the abattoir.

Cooper-Sharp Jury Becoming Impatient Over the Many Delays Asks Judge to Rush the Trial

Spectators Anxiously Awaiting Sensations in Rebuttal
Testimony Promised by Prosecuting Attorneys.

Nashville, March 5.—The early part of the morning session in the Cooper trial was devoted to rebuttal evidence of witnesses on minor points. The jury is anxious to have the case finished and while it is unlikely that Judge Hart will order night sessions as they request, he probably will ask attorneys to cut out arguments over points of law. It is expected that the closing arguments will be brief and the case possibly will go to the jury Wednesday night.

The state is expected to finish its rebuttal testimony today and all the evidence is likely to be in by tomorrow. Photographs of the scene of the killing are being made, and will be submitted to the jury for observation obviating the necessity of visiting the place where the killing occurred.

Charles Hayden, one of the defense's witnesses, who was not cross-examined when he testified, was recalled by the state for that purpose. Hayden was in Judge Bradford's office when the conference between Col. Cooper, Robin, Bradford and Gen. Tully Brown took place just before the shooting. Hayden stated that the door was closed during the conference, contrary to the testimony of Col. Cooper and Judge Bradford. He denied, too, that anyone called Col. Cooper to the telephone. Gen. Brown swore he called Col. Cooper to talk to the governor, and that the governor asked Cooper to come to the mansion. If Hayden's testimony is accurate, then the excuse the Coopers had for being on Seventh avenue that afternoon falls.

Dr. Glasgow Recalled.
Dr. Glasgow was again recalled and asked:
"Would it be possible, doctor, for a bullet in the shoulder, such as you have heard Robin Cooper received, to work out?"

"No, sir, I do not think so. I do not believe it would be possible for it to get out in twenty-four hours. The muscles would close on it, and it would come out only by suppuration, and that would be impossible in twenty-four hours."

Capt. Fitzhugh conducted the cross-examination:
"Doctor, when counsel examined you and read your autopsy statement to Dr. Eve, he described one of the wounds upon Senator Carmack's body as one and one-half inches from the median line of the left side. Is that correct?"

"No, sir. It was one-half inch. It was typewritten one and one-half, but the one was crossed out."

How Bullet Ranged.
"How did that bullet range?"
"It ranged downward and forward."

"It would be possible to receive such a wound and live for some time?"

"Cases have been so reported."

"You are familiar with Dr. Von Bergman's text book on surgery, as translated by Dr. Bull?"

"We object," said Judge Anderson. "They are not cross-examining him; they are using him as an expert."

"We are not," said Captain Fitzhugh. "We are testing his knowledge."

"The state can do that," commented the court.

"But Dr. Glasgow is our witness," said Judge Anderson.

As a matter of fact the doctor is the witness the state sold in open court to the defense.

"We did not put him on as an expert," pert, so they can't use him as such."

One for the State.
The court cannot anticipate the state's questions," remarked Judge Hart.

Fitzhugh then asked if the work of Von Bergman did not report many cases of people shot through the heart who lived some time, and, over the defense's objection, the doctor said he did. The state's questions tended to show that the wounds inflicted upon the senator, while heart wounds, were less likely to be instantly fatal than others in a different part of the heart. The idea was to show what Carmack might have lived long enough to shoot twice, after he received the wounds which killed him.

Not An Expert.
Dr. Glasgow said he had never had any practice in heart wounds and was not an expert. On this ground the Loose Leaf Sales.

Tobacco sales at Bohmer's loose leaf warehouse this morning were $4,000 pounds offered and sold. The prices ranged from $9 down to $4.10 a hundred pounds. There were no rejections this morning and the bidding was strong and spirited. Prospects good for a big sale Monday morning.

Demand Repair of Cable.
London, March 5.—The British foreign office this morning sent instructions to the British minister of Teheran that he demand that the shah order the immediate repair of the Indo-European cables destroyed by Royalists' operations about Tabriz. English communication with India is interrupted by the destruction of the cable.
